RESPECT WILDLIFE AND NATURE

Trails offer a chance to experience nature up close, but that experience depends on caring for the plants, animals, and habitats around us. Small choices by trail users can make a big difference.

- Watch wildlife from a distance and do not feed animals.
- Stay on the trail to protect plants, roots, soils, and habitat.
- Keep noise low so others can enjoy nature too.
- Leave rocks, flowers, nests, and natural features where they are.
- Keep pets under control so they do not disturb wildlife.
- Pack out all waste, including food scraps.
- Help children learn that observing nature is better than collecting it.

Respect for nature helps keep trails healthy and beautiful.
